NO FROST DAMAGE.

Winning, Aug. 22.—The weekly crop report of C. P. R. today indicates that no damage has been done by the frost, which has been reported during the past few days from the north of the province. The night of the 20th inst. was very chilly and all around freezing point, but the weather bureau received up to date report that the crops did not suffer to any extent. Bulletin received up to date report that the crops did not suffer to any extent. Bulletin received up to date report that the crops did not suffer to any extent.

The report of the weather prophet today indicated higher temperature generally throughout all Western Canada. At Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, and Swift Current, it touched 80 degrees during the last 24 hours and a dozen other localities in Manitoba and Alberta were well up in the 70's, while the lowest touched was well above the fatal mark of 42 degrees.

Cutting has been started at Carleton Place, where they expect a lot of barley and oats and some wheat. The reports from Carleton Place are encouraging, although the weather has been a little more favorable. At Lander, in the Estevan section, cutting will commence in a few days. The weather has been good, and the crops are well along. Work in the Saskatchewan section of Alberta harvest fields has been going on for some time, and it was stated that on an average the yield there would be fully equal to last year and in a number of places it is expected to be larger. Reports were last yesterday about great damage being done by frost, but so far as could be learned they were practically without foundation.

CUTTING AT BRANDON.

Brandon, Aug. 22.—Wheat cutting commenced in the city yesterday. John Tob, a miller southeast of Brandon, started on a sixty-acre field that was ready for the binder. It will be another week before wheat cutting is general.

GRAIN RECEIPTS.

Winning, Aug. 22.—Grain receipts at points on the lines of the C. P. R. yesterday amounted to 21,000 bushels of wheat and 5,000 bushels of other grain. On the corresponding day of last year, the receipts amounted to 1,000 bushels of wheat and 6,000 bushels of other grain. The total grain receipts to this date have amounted to 65,000 bushels of wheat, and 7,000 bushels of other grain. In the corresponding period of last year, the receipts amounted to 62,700 bushels of wheat and 6,000 bushels of other grain.

WINNIEPPEE GRAIN EXCHANGE.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—The bears had a innings today on the grain exchange. Perfect weather conditions for the ripening of wheat and a general belief that damage by frost will not be serious were the leading factors in price making today. The weather this morning showed a clear sky everywhere and a reasonable temperature. This has been a factor in the market, and by opening time prices were precipitated two cents. At the opening, the prices were not altered by commission, which caused a rally of half cent. This did not last, however, and there was considerable profit taken by those who had bought earlier in the week and some short selling by traders. There appeared to be no wind up by the holders, which caused traders to be more friendly to the short side. The market was nervous, and will continue to be out of danger of the elements. Foreign market, including our advance of yesterday on their receipts, but at the close showed some easing up. New York says there is no export demand, which is continued by local exporters. In American markets the upturn was weak all day, prices dropping as much as they advanced yesterday. Prices at the close are the lowest of the day with a weak tone and sentiment quite bleak.

BEEF COMMISSION CLOSURES.

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—The Beef Commission closed its business today. The chairman offered to have the commission during the next two weeks in the form of statutory declarations, and if any traders were not satisfied with the findings, they would be forwarded for any remarks to be made thereon. He felt the commission could be taken into consideration, but had been told that the commission had tried their best to get at the root of the whole business and he thought they had succeeded. The report might not be pleasing to anyone who would not like to see it impossible to place all. They should try to give everybody a square deal. He particularly thanked the large cattle dealers for giving full information, and then everything was done in connection with their business. He announced that anyone who had any further evidence to give in Manitoba or Alberta could, within about a fortnight, send in a declaration through the mail. If the evidence should contain any reflection on anyone it would be sent to the parties concerned and opportunity given for rebuttal.

HOG SOLD FOR $5.00.

Janetville, Wis., Aug. 22.—"Star Messenger," a Berkshire hog, formerly owned by the Wisconsin state university, was sold at the University of Illinois, Ill., for $5.00.

CROPS IN CLOVER BAR.

Crops throughout the Clover Bar district are in splendid condition, and the farmers are all making good yields of grain of all kinds. The grain is uniformly thick, the stalks strong, the heads large and full. A number of full wheat on the farm of Mr. P. R. Wetzel, a splendid yield for a binder and promises a splendid yield. Spring wheat and oats, though not so far advanced, are everywhere in good condition, and many fields of alfalfa are unusually good. The splendid weather is bringing the grain along rapidly, and a reasonably late fall will see the harvest crop better than the average. Hay is in splendid crop, and native hay, cut top and rough grass stands as high as a man's head. Garden stuff of all kinds looks well, and no touches of frost are noticed beyond a mile or so from the city.

THE PROPOSED COLD STORAGE WAREHOUSE.

On Monday next the ratemakers will vote on a by-law proposed by the city council, exempting, free water and light and power at the Edmonton Produce company for a proposed cold storage building to be erected in the Canadian Northern railway yards. The tax exemption includes only the general business tax on the portion of the building put to use for office purposes. The proposal of the company is to erect a warehouse in accordance with the act passed at last session of the Federal Parliament. Under the terms of the act the location, plans, equipment and cost of the building must meet with the approval of the Governor in Council. Such establishments are subject to inspection by Government experts and the tax charged must be approved by the Governor in Council. Failing in any of these particulars the ratemakers have such percentage of the Government bonus as is considered proportionate. A clause is included in the by-law providing that if the building does not comply with these conditions it shall be maintained and operated to the satisfaction of the city commissioners.

Mr. T. S. Williamson, manager of the company, provided the Bulletin with some further details as to the plans of the proposed warehouse. The accommodation at the beginning will be 75,000 cubic feet, but the building will be designed to permit of ready extension of the insulated section as needed. Rooms will be so arranged that produce of all kinds may be kept at the temperature necessary for their proper preservation, and separate compartments will be provided for local butchers and dealers.

The need of a properly equipped cold storage warehouse in Edmonton is amply apparent. The current tallentment of the kind is in Calgary, and owing to this fact the dairy and poultry trade of the western provinces in Calgary instead of in Edmonton, though the bulk both of dairy and poultry products are produced in the Edmonton province. The city of Edmonton, butter and eggs produced in this section cannot be stored here owing to the lack of cold storage facilities. In consequence they are shipped to Calgary, and then re-imported in the seasons when the demand exceeds the supply—the consumer and producer of course suffering the loss of this unnecessary railway haul.

At present the Edmonton dealer or consumer is altogether dependent on the continuous supply from the country, having no means of storing up produce in the season of plenty for use when production falls off. This has caused some expensive but needless situations during the past year. For example one local firm imports the Bulletin that during last winter they imported 45,000 pounds of butter by express from Montreal, and sold it here at 40 cents per pound. During the winter the same firm imported four cars of Canadian butter, and only three weeks ago brought in another car from Lindsay, Ontario. This is surely an unhealthy condition of affairs to exist in the metropolis of the best mixed-farming country on the continent. That it existed was not because these commodities were not produced here, but because there were no means of storing them in the months when they were produced, for use when the production largely ceased. Having no means of preserving them at home we sold them abroad and then imported for our own use.

This hand-to-mouth condition of affairs hits the producer as well as the consumer. At present the prices of all kinds of perishable farm products fluctuate with the seasons from very high to ridiculously low figures, and the producer has been to sell them are scarcely worth hauling to town; when he has none to sell they are worth fabulous prices. It is not the farmer must sell them when he has them whatever the price may be. He has no means of holding them until prices improve. As a result he gets only the low prices which prevail in a glutted market. There is no uniformity in price, and the consumer can find no stability and little profit in the business of supplying produce.

An efficient cold storage warehouse tends to equalize both the price the producer receives and the price the consumer pays. When the supplies are ample the farmer can hold for a better price by storing his produce while the consumer can take advantage of the low prices in certain seasons by storing produce for use. The establishment of such a warehouse means money in the pockets of both the consumer and the producer. More than this, it means money kept at home instead of money sent abroad or paid in railway charges.

WANTED, A STAR.

The suggestion for a fair fall was usually discussed by the ratemakers a few days ago, but no definite action was taken. The city council and the agricultural association proposed that once started the project would be carried to splendid success. The fall of snow in the southern districts and the light touch of frost in some localities a few days ago furnish another reason why the fair should be held. These agreeable events are certain to be multiplied and moralized on by that section of the press which evinces the interests of the West. The manœuvre, which is not such criticism is to "produce the goods." Perhaps the easterner would not be here to see them, but there are thousands of associates in the city who would see them and who would know their capabilities of the country by the most convincing of all literature, the word of personal testimony. A fall fair would do much to impress the residents of Central Alberta with the agricultural resources of their province than any other practicable agency. As the best immigration agent the contented and enthusiastic residents of the city, bringing these resources home to thousands of residents of Alberta can be increased. No cashing financial work was so far, and when the company was prepared to discuss active operations the government couldn't see clear to its dispatch in the way of a subsidy. This checked the plans, and as the company's only idea in building the road was to develop its holdings it was thought advisable to try to sell to the C.P.R. the land from the Government to a point on the Crow's Nest line, about 175 miles through one of the most fertile valleys in B.C., where hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of timber stands undisturbed. The area is a really mineral deposit, and it is said the farm and fruit lands are the very best. The construction of the line by the C.P.R. would add a valuable branch line, and the relief to the pressure on the Crow's Nest line. It is all a matter of price, but as the Kootenay company have so many other holdings they will probably not be too stiff. Without the road a lot of investments is tied up. Mr. Pol, who was seen, said he thought that the road would make a fine paying one for the C.P.R., and would develop a country whose riches are few have any conception of.

TO PURCHASE THE KOOTENAY ROAD

Important Negotiations in Progress at Calgary to Open up Grand Country.

Bulletin Special.
Calgary, August 22.—Important news is being received from the city and between C. H. Hangerford, Pollock and J. A. Harvey, of Cranbrook, B.C., and Mr. Denison, of the C.P.R., which involve the transfer of the charter of the Grand Kootenay Central Railway to the C.P.R. Vice-president Whyte and Mr. Denison were over the route recently, and the present negotiations are the result. The charter was granted five years ago by the Federal house, and the people who own large holdings of farm and mineral lands in the Kootenay valley. For some reason, probably financial, work was not started, and when the company was prepared to discuss active operations the government couldn't see clear to its dispatch in the way of a subsidy. This checked the plans, and as the company's only idea in building the road was to develop its holdings it was thought advisable to try to sell to the C.P.R. the land from the Government to a point on the Crow's Nest line, about 175 miles through one of the most fertile valleys in B.C., where hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of timber stands undisturbed. STRINGENCY IN DOMESTIC COAL

Output has not Increased Since Last Winter Says Discreet Vice President Galvin.

Bulletin Special.
Calgary, August 22.—J. H. Galvin, district vice-president of the United Mine Workers Union of America in British Columbia and Alberta, has just returned from the meeting of the joint committee of coal miners and operators held in Banff. The joint committee has been sitting since last night, and the entire proceedings were marked by the greatest of good feeling between the operators and miners. Those representing the operators were Messrs. H. H. McKnight, McNeill and Williams. The miners' representatives were Messrs. Galvin, and Williams. Mr. Galvin was of the opinion that there would be enough coal mined to keep commerce and business moving, but he thought there would be a scarcity for domestic use. "The wheels of commerce will run smoothly," he remarked, "but I think there might be a little stringency with domestic coal. Including the mines at Edmonton the output has not increased fifteen tons daily since last year, and the demand is daily increasing of about three thousand tons. At the joint committee meeting held in Banff, which I have just left," continued Mr. Galvin, "the miners' representatives were very understanding each other better, and they were very cooperative. The operators have also come to understand the miners better since last winter."

Recessed and Party Return.

It required a long time to make the return from Provincetown, Mass., than was anticipated, owing to the heavy weather. The party arrived in Greater Bay was reached during a heavy shower. The rain did not stop the party, and they went ashore shortly after the Mayor's boat to anchor.

Found at Calgary While Excavations Were Being Made for Approach to New Bridge.
Bulletin Special.
Calgary, Aug. 22.—While excavating for the approach of the new bridge across the Bow river this morning the workmen discovered the skeleton of the famous Stony Indian, "Black Deer." An old ex-mountain policeman who knew Black Deer at the time of the latter's sudden disappearance some seventeen years ago identified the remains by the trinkets and personal effects found on the skeleton. The remains will probably be given a big funeral by the Stony tribe, who reserve in forty miles east of Calgary, as Black Deer was the most famous warrior in the history of the tribe, and was held in great honor.
